Update from Rodney

As you all know since March 2020, everyone's life has changed. The food world has definitely been affected with availability and costs due to supply and demand. This has forced me to make some decisions I which I didn't have to make. Until Chicken Wings can stabilize in the market we will be discontinuing them. We just can't get them in consistently and when we do the price is just more than I can bear to charge my customers. Other muen prices will have to be adjusted more frequently in these new times that we are in and this will be monitored weekly. We will get through this and thins will get back to normal; whatever that is! Thanks, Rodney

Mother's Day

Even though my mother is in Heaven waiting on the rest of us I want to take this Mothers Day to thank her again for all she gave to me. My mother was the most giving, caring, loving mother ever. With my mother it was never about her, but always about everybody else in her life. I don't have enough space in this news letter to list all the sacrifices my mother made for us. But as special as my mother was to me I know every person reading this has a mother just as special to them. Let me remind everyone again, don't let this weekend go by without embracing your mother, you don't know how fortunate you are if you're able to do that. If you can't reach her, call her, send her something special, just let her know how much you love her. If your mother is in Heaven like mine take the time to pray and meditate and let's look forward to the day we reunite.

Meet the Menu

With the unmanageable demand for chicken wings and the dreadful decision that Rodney has had to make about them, why not try our Chicken Tenders? You can even get them tossed in wing sauce! They might not be as messy as Chicken Wings but I just know you will love the flavor! Get you some today.
