

The Continuing Adventures Of Captain Sub Runners

(Volume 1, Episode 2)

When we last saw our hero, he had made the discovery of his new powers as Captain Sub Runners. He vowed his allegiance to Sub Runners to protect their mission of quality, value and service to their customers. Now, he heads to work, changing back to his secret identity as one of the hard-working Sub Runners managers.

In another part of town, we find Tom, who had discovered his own new powers, which have transformed him into Doctor Distracto. His evil intent is to use his powers of distraction to keep the employees of Sub Runners from performing their jobs, hoping to keep them from their mission. He hopes that this will let him take over and destroy the restaurant! Little does he know he will soon meet his match in Captain Sub Runners.

Tom launches his evil plan and shows up at Sub Runners. He begins by showing the employees funny videos on his phone, distracting them from their work. This slows up the flow of food preparation, causing the customers to get poor service. Doctor Distracto has discovered he has a terrible power at his disposal, a mind-altering ability he calls the Ray of Distraction! He uses it on the workers who take the orders, to keep them in a trance-like state as the phones ring and ring.

When our hero shows up, he sees that everyone is acting strange and are having trouble performing their jobs. He rallies the workers and gets things back to normal.

This angers Doctor Distracto and he comes up with another plan. As he leaves Sub Runners, he flies away in his rocket-powered chair. His plan? To follow the delivery drivers and keep them from making their deliveries. Using his Ray of Distraction, he causes them to not be able to drive and do their job.

Back at the store, our hero is taking call after call from customers saying no deliveries are being made. Realizing there must be some kind of evil plot afoot, he makes an excuse to go and see what is happening. Transforming into Captain Sub Runners, he flies off.

He finds Doctor Distracto causing the delivery cars to be unable to move. Using his laser vision, he shoots beams that free the cars from the Ray of Distraction.

“Who are you and how dare you interfere with Doctor Distracto?”

“I am Captain Sub Runners, Champion of Sub Runners restaurant!”

The Doctor fires his ray, hitting his foe. Dazed, Captain Sub Runners fires back with his laser, hitting Doctor Distracto’s chair and causing it to tumble out of control. As the doctor crashes into a nearby swamp, Captain Sub Runners helps the drivers make their deliveries, wondering who this villain is and when he’ll attack again!

After his crash, his rocket chair in need of repair, Doctor Distracto shakes his fist, then vows to seek revenge on the Captain and continue his assault on Sub Runners.

Stay tuned for our next adventure!